

Presentation Skills

Presentations skills can be utilized in many different venues and not just in formal presentation settings. Imagine leveraging skills learned in this program to effectively present ideas, thoughts, vision, and concepts to individuals or groups.

Objective: To develop effective presentation building and delivery skills when addressing large or small audiences.

Methodology: Interactive group learning. Presentation content building and delivery with videotaping and feedback. DISC Behavioral "Communicating with Style" profile report included.

Program Overview:

- Understanding different communication styles
- Reviewing personalized DISC communication style reports
- Reviewing the DISC language
- Presentation Basics
- Presentation Goals
- Researching the Audience
- Selecting the Right Presentation Structure
- Different Openings
- Writing Content
- Structuring Delivery
- Methods of Delivery
- Presentation Creation
- Presentation Delivery and Video

Program Fee: $285 per participant

Program length: 4 hours

To register for this program:

<http://www.kerrhill.com/register.asp>

To see a sample DISC "Communicating with Style" report:

http://www.kerrhill.com/documents/Communicating_With_Style_2007.pdf